Minutes

Presentation - Affordable Housing Options for Elders by Nancy Sharifi and Kim Boettner, Orange County Housing and Community Development Division

- Ms. Sharifi stated that, in 2016, there were an estimated 1,078,325 renter households living or below 60 percent of the annual median income, which represented 43 percent of all renter households. Of these households, 756,648 (70 percent) were cost burdened – that is they paid more than 30 percent of their income on housing. In Orange County, 43 percent of elderly households paid more than 30 percent of their income for rent or mortgage costs.

- Ms. Sharifi and Ms. Boettner provided an overview of several programs managed by the Orange County Housing and Community Development Division.
 - Housing Development – This program focuses on construction/acquisition and/or rehabilitation of new multifamily housing. Approximately 500 new units are produced through this program over a five-year strategic planning period.
 - Rental Assistance – The Section 8 and HOME programs both have significant waitlists. Individuals interested in being placed on this waitlist must wait until it is opened to apply, which only occurs every couple of years. Not everyone who applies during this process is placed on the waitlist due to the volume of applications. A lottery is conducted to fill the waitlist slots.
 - Section 8 – Individuals receiving Section 8 funds receive a housing voucher and are authorized to find a housing unit that meets the needs of their family and the requirements of the program.
 - HOME Tenant Base – This program is similar to the Section 8 program but is focused on providing housing vouchers for seniors, people with disabilities and homeless individuals.
 - Down Payment Assistance – This program provides down payment assistance for individuals interested in becoming a homeowner. Individuals must attend a mandatory home buying class and meet other eligibility criteria.
 - Single Family Housing Rehabilitation – This program is for families at or below 50 percent of the federal poverty level and provides emergency as well as substantial repairs to a homeowner's property.
 - Single Family Construction – This program involves acquiring land for affordable housing developments that are constructed by third-party developers.
- Ms. Sharifi stated the Orlando Metro Area, which includes Orange, Seminole, Lake and Osceola counties, is ranked third nationally for its lack of housing for extremely low-income residents. Reasons for this ranking include the area's low wages, flat incomes and rising rents.
- Ms. Sharifi overviewed some of the challenges with regards to affordable housing, including:
 - A lack of funding increases at the federal level;
 - The aging and deteriorating of existing affordable housing units; and,
 - HUD regulations state that multifamily housing complexes that use HUD funds only need to remain "affordable" for a set period of time; after which these units can be converted to full rental properties.
- Ms. Sharifi discussed other affordable housing programs within Central Florida. In addition to Orange County's Housing and Community Development Division, both the City of Orlando and the City of Winter Park maintain housing authorities. Florida also has a Florida Housing Finance Corporation to assist in providing a range of affordable housing opportunities throughout the state. Other resources include Low Income Housing Tax Credits that are issued by the U.S. Treasury and the HUD Section 202 housing for the elderly.
